ASSISTANT JOURNAL CLERK

NATURE OF WORK

This is professional administrative work recording highly sensitive and historical legislative actions taken by the Senate. Work includes recording all daily Senate legislative actions taken on the Senate floor and compiling, editing, and producing the annual Journal of the Proceedings of the Senate which is the highest legal authority of business to come before the Senate. Work is bound by the United States Constitution, Senate rules and specific office policy and procedure, but requires periodic independent judgment in setting priorities and handling unusual assignments. Work is performed under the immediate supervision of the Journal Clerk.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS

Records all legislative actions taken on the Senate floor; takes handwritten notes of actions then transfers and expands this information into precise format for Minute Books which is ultimately formatted for preparation of the Journal as required by the United States Constitution; interprets and confirms the intent of the speaker to accurately record action in the Journal.

Performs multiple tasks while working at the legislative desk of the Senate Chamber and closely monitoring the sometimes chaotic, stressful and unpredictable Senate proceedings to recognize actions requiring entry in the Journal; creates, corrects and proofreads previously recorded actions for preparation of the Journal; responds to inquiries from Senators, floor staff, legislative clerks regarding various actions; records and forwards messages from the President and House of Representatives; and confers with Parliamentarian, legislative clerks and floor staff when faced with unclear legislative action taken.

Incorporates and verifies information from the Morning Business section of the Congressional Record to report in the Journal as required by Senate rules; and compiles alphabetical and chronological indexes with references for publication in the Journal.

PHYSICAL DEMANDS AND WORKING ENVIRONMENT

Work is performed in an office environment and on the floor of the Senate Chamber and involves everyday risks or discomforts which require normal safety precautions when performing the work. Work is essentially sedentary with frequent use of the computer and occasional walking, standing, bending, and safely carrying items under 25 pounds.
